$40,000 SUBSCRIBED IN THE TWO DAY'S CAMPAIGN

Navy Yard Workmen "Getting Behind the Country" and More Than 600 Bonds of the Liberty Loan Were Taken Out Yesterday

In the second day's campaign at the Portsmouth navy yard for subscriptions for the Liberty Loan more than 600 individual bonds were taken up by the workmen in the various shops and in one shop alone more than $5,000 worth of the bonds were subscribed for. In the first day's campaign on Thursday that total subscription was $6,000 and with Friday's subscriptions reaching close to $35,000 the total is nearly $40,000 for the two days. Officers of the Improvement Association, which organization is back of the campaign, believe that the figures will go above the $40,000 mark when they are tabulated. They will be ready for publication this afternoon.

The workmen of the navy yard are taking hold of the proposition for several reasons, including their patriotic desire to "do their bit" in aiding the nation in its war against Germany, and the realization that the bonds are a gilt-edged investment. It was stated last night that in one shop all but two men were subscribers to the loan and both of these have indicated their intention of taking up at least one bond.

The second day's sale of Liberty bonds at the Portsmouth navy yard on Friday, June 8, brought the total amounts as follows:

Shipfitter's shop	$8,750.00
Building trades	5,500.00
Outside Machinists	4,900.00
Foundry	3,450.00
Plumbers, pipe fitters, copper-smiths, sheet metal	3,200.00
Pattern shop	2,750.00
Boat shop	2,400.00
Smith shop	1,800.00
Block, Cooper, Shipwrights	1,300.00
Submarine draftsmen	1,300.00
Industrial office	600.00
Power Plant	550.00
Paint shop	50.00
Riggers and laborers	50.00
Total	$36,700.00

The aim is to sell $100,000 worth of bonds. With 2000 men working on the yard we ought to do it without any trouble whatever.

In subscribing the men help themselves, the Army and Navy, and the Soldiers of the sea, all the civilized nations of Europe, and our own United States of America.

Let every man on the Yard do his duty by buying a bond, and talking up the sale of a bond to someone else.

BOXING NOTES

Another big league match will be decided at the triple A show in the Boston arena next Tuesday evening when Johnny Dundee and Frankie Calahan clash. It has all the earmarks of a very fast fight for these boys have boxed three times, but their bout next week is the first in which a referee's decision enters into the bill.

It will not be any pleasure for Dundee, quite to the contrary. He is very likely to receive just as much as he gives. If he wins it will be his speed that will bring home the bacon. That is all that he has on Calahan. The Brooklyn fighter has a real punch, is very clever and knows every trick in the game.

Calahan is not unknown to Boston fans for he has had several battles with Boston boys at the Arena. He beat Gilbert Gallant and for all times stopped the ambitions of Harry Carlson. He has met all the top-notchers including Henry Leonard without getting a black mark.

Tony Vatin and Micky Brown will box in the semi-final. Tony grabbed the decision the first time they met, but the last time Micky made him look very bad. Tommy O'Toole and Fred Webb will furnish another grueling battle while Harry Loring and Harry Glasberg also will box six rounds. It is a great fight program and should provide a lot of excitement.

WEAR UNIFORMS AT ALL TIMES

From this time forward, throughout the remainder of the war with Germany, every man in the United States Navy must wear his uniform continually. The men have heretofore been allowed at times to appear in public in civilian attire, but under the new edict, this practice must cease.

Recruiting officers have been instructed that henceforth men who enlist for service in the navy between the ages of 21 and 30 years, must present their registration cards when they apply for enlistment.

It is understood that the navy will continue to recruit up to a total of 160,000 men. When this number is reached the branch recruiting stations throughout the country will be closed.

It is officially stated that navy enlistments are figured on a basis of four years service straight, regardless of the duration of the war. The mistaken impression has prevailed that men who join the navy now are enlisting merely for the duration of the conflict.

EXETER

Exeter, June 8.—The first event of the Phillips Exeter commencement program, the 35th anniversary reunion of the class of '92, many accompanied by their wives was commenced today. This is under the direction of Dr. O. S. Amaden. The former students gathered at the Williams house during the afternoon where an informal reception was held. A banquet was held in the evening at Alumni hall.

The case of Dr. Daniel W. Colcord vs. Frank W. Chase, both of Seabrook, went on trial yesterday morning in the superior court. It is an action to recover for medical services rendered.

Settlement was reached out of court with judgment for the plaintiff. Counsel were Stewart F. Howe for the plaintiff and Eastman, Scammon and Gardner for the defense. A jury was empaneled but it did not sit owing to sickness.

Great Prophet Richard A. Starling of the Pocomsett tribe of Newmarket was present at the meeting of the Wampanoag tribe Thursday evening when he exemplified the warriors degree. Supper followed the work.

Arrangements are being made for memorial Sunday for the local French during the latter part of the month. A meeting to complete the arrangements has just been called for Saturday evening, June 16. Children's day will be observed at the Methodist church next Sunday with

CARDS WILL NOT BE DUPLICATED

Young men who have lost or had their registration cards stolen from them, and many of both cases have been reported to the registrars, are in dire straits. Governor Keyes, in a letter to the sheriffs of the various counties yesterday had advised that no more cards may be issued.

The purpose of this is to prevent young men of the ages from 21 to 30 inclusive, who have not registered from getting possession of one of these coveted certificates which shows that the applicant is in line to be drafted into the army of 1,000,000 to be raised by the Government.

In order to protect the young men who have registered and lost their cards, however, the governor has required that they go before the clerk of the superior court in their county and make affidavit in writing that they have registered. For Rockingham County it is Charles H. Knight.

When they have been looked up to see if they are telling the truth, a statement will be issued to them. The sheriff, or other officials, have a right to demand to see the registration card of any young man between the ages mentioned.

Sheriff Ceylon Spinnery of this city upon receiving the letter from the governor, forwarded it to Clerk Knight.

The Potato Holds Its Own.

A western paper recently had something interesting to say on the subject of potatoes. It spoke of the shortage which has prevailed the past year, predicted that this would continue for a year at least, and perhaps longer, in spite of the hopefulness with which the people are looking forward to next fall's harvest, and then went on to speak of some things the people could do about it if they would.

And this paper's program for relieving the pressure caused by the potato shortage does not consist in investigations, prosecutions or anything of the sort. It simply recommends that people turn their attention to other food articles which in reality are worth more than potatoes, and which cost less, until conditions change and the price of potatoes comes down to somewhere near where it ought to be. "Why," it asks, "must we have potatoes? Until nearly four hundred years ago nobody in the world had ever eaten a potato. Right now there are many nations of sturdy people who do not eat them. They are not indispensable to us in the United States. If we use substitutes for them we can laugh at the potato quotations."

While this is true it is also true that potatoes are considered practically indispensable in most households. But this indispensability is based more on habit and desire than upon scientific facts, if what the food scientists tell us is true. They say the relative value of the potato as a food is small, yet regardless of all this the people insist that they must have potatoes, and that they feel that they must be evidenced by the prices they have paid during the last six months. They have grumbled about the price, and with reason, but they have paid it rather than deny themselves an article of food which science teaches should be one of the first to be dispensed with in case of such a pinch as the country is now experiencing.

In this connection it may well be asked what is the use of all this investigation of the relative value of different foods and all this scientific teaching if the people are to utterly disregard it all? A great deal of time and energy is expended in endeavoring to teach the people what is for their benefit, yet when the test comes the teaching is thrown aside and buyers of foods are governed by their habits, appetites and desires. This has always been so, and it looks as if it always would be. Scientists may teach and preach "rice" till the crack of doom, but the people will go right on eating potatoes so long as they can get them at any price, if what they have been doing for the last six months is any criterion by which to judge.

It may as well be admitted that the potato is a king in its field. Let it be hoped that its field may be exceptionally large and extraordinarily prolific this year.

The latest report from Washington on the prohibition issue is to the effect that Congress contemplates wiping out distilling and brewing during the war by prohibitive taxation. Of course this would be possible, but would it not be more dignified to make prohibition direct? To be sure, under this plan it is understood that the use of liquors in bonded warehouses would be permitted, the end aimed at being the conservation for food purposes of the grain that goes into liquor and beer. Most men will feel that if the government wants to stop this use of grain it should do it openly and not attempt to hide behind the mask of taxation.

This paper has already intimated that it is a queer time of the year for the price of milk to be going up, as it is doing in many cities, and even in country towns, and there are others who are beginning to take this view of the matter. It is admitted that grain and hay are high, but the season for feeding hay is practically ended and cows should need less grain while the pastures are in such condition as they will be for the next few months. Can it be possible that the farmers have "caught the fever" and are boosting because everybody else is boosting?

Success to the police in their efforts to run down the house-breakers that have been operating in this city of late. At such a time as this particularly there can be no patience whatever with "thieves who break through and steal."

The young men of Portsmouth did their duty like true patriots on registration day. New Hampshire and this city never take a back seat when it comes to standing by the Government.

A severe earthquake shock was felt in Southern California a few nights ago. No damage of consequence was done, but blamed for being a little timid since the affair at San Francisco a few years ago.

If the season can manage to make up nearly a month of lost time June may yet be a month of roses.

From the Exchanges

The Green, White and Red

(From the Cleveland Plain Dealer)

General Cadorna's army is doing all it can to make it pleasant for the Italian mission which is visiting this country. Before Ulline and Starrent and their associates came to America shores the alliance of the United States with the cause of civilization against Germany expressed itself mostly by declarations of friendship with France and England. The French and British flags hoisted side by side with the Stars and Stripes. Everyone was eager to do honor to Viviani and Balfour and good old Papa Joffre. People all over the country learned to recognize the French and British flags on sight. But the Italian flag (which, unfortunately, is essentially the same as the flag of Mexico) was displayed only by a few Italo-Americans proud of the nation of their birth.

There was even a hint that Italy was growing lukewarm. There were stories of popular demonstrations in Milan and Naples against the war. Some Americans were inclined to class Italy with Russia as a doubtful sister.

Now all this is changed. General Cadorna, by his magnificent offensive across the terrible Carso and along the Adriatic coast has convinced Americans that Italy is as earnest as any other member of the alliance against Prussianism. While the French and British in France are resting, the Italians, with a valor worthy of the old Garibaldians, are maintaining the offensive.

So the king's cousin is beginning to receive the measure of appreciation which is due less to his admirable personality than to the worthiness of the nation he represents. Italy is staunch. Italy stands as firm as the United States in the cause of righteousness and human liberty. The green, white and red deserves to float with the tri-color and the union Jack in America as a flag of democracy and enlightenment and valorous devotion to the ideals of civilization.

Hard to Suit Some People

(From the Kansas City Star)

Of course people have complained some about too much rain. But think of the howl that would have gone up if there had been a drought!

Selfish Over Cotton

(From the Springfield Union)

It was not so long ago that Senator Hoke Smith and other Southerners in Congress were howling for war against Great Britain because she was interfering with cotton shipments to Germany. Now these same patriots are exerting every endeavor to see that cotton shall not be taxed for its share of the cost of the war into which we have been driven by Germany's commerce and on the lives of American citizens.

Stick to School

(From the Topeka State Journal)

An urgent appeal to pupils to remain in high school next fall as a patriotic duty has been issued by Dr. P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education. Director Claxton points out that there are in the high schools of the United States this year more than one and one-half millions of boys and girls, and somewhat more than 200,000 of them will graduate this month and next. In an ordinary year 30,000 or more of these would next fall enter college, normal school or technical school to be prepared for such service to society, state and nation as can be rendered only by those who have received education beyond that which the high schools can give. He says: "Many college presidents and others fear that on account of our entrance into the war few boys and girls will enter college next fall and that the total college attendance will be very small. The number ought, however, to be much larger than usual."

"This appeal is made on the basis of patriotic duty. If the war should be long the country will need all the trained men and women it can get—many more than it now has. There will be men in abundance to fight in the trenches but there will be a dearth of officers, engineers and men of scientific knowledge and skill in all the industries in transportation, and in many other places where skill and daring are just as necessary for success as in the trenches. The first call of the Allies is for 12,000 engineers and skilled men to repair the railroads of France and England, and other thousands will be needed later. Russia will probably want thousands of men to repair and build her railroads. The increase in transportation and the tax on our own roads will call for large numbers of men of the same kind. New industrial plants, shipyards, and our armies abroad will call for highly trained men beyond all possible supply unless our colleges and technical schools remain open and increase their attendance and output.

When the war is over there will be made upon us such demands for men and women of knowledge that training as have never before come to any country. The world will have to be rebuilt and American college men and women must assume a large part of the task.

THE "IF" IN WAR

We in this country think the war can harm us little, here so far—A sort of opera bouffe And quite amusing in a way; Some thousand leagues of ocean seem Seemingly us in this sweet dream. And yet conditions may arise Our peace of mind to jeopardize; Embodied in the "If" of war We could find many things to jar Our safety and alarm the land By ways a child could understand. For instance: If the crops should fail Just when with food we would prevail Against the deadly submarine—If giving France and England aid, To keep them from the starving point, Our last of bread—our only joint If Russia (and it seems she may) Betake herself from out the fray, A million German foes release, Which, added to the hosts in France, Would minimize the Allies' chance Of victory, yea, their defeat. Might in the instance be complete, If Uncle Sam a million strong Could not the moment rush along His brassy sons, And if the Hun Could count the final struggle won, Defeat the Allies on the sea, As on the land, as such might be, 'Twould not be long before our coasts Would be assailed by her great hosts; Then single-handed, could we hope With such fierce myrmidons to cope? J. E. MOORE.

MORE AMERICAN OFFICERS ARRIVE IN ENGLAND

(By Associated Press) London, June 9.—A further contingent of American officers arrived today. The officers came on the steamer which brought Foreign Secretary Balfour.

TWO NEW CAMP SITES SELECTED

Chillicothe, O., and Petersburg, Va., Added to Stations for Cantonments.

Washington, June 9.—Nearly a score of captains of the quartermaster corps were ordered yesterday to report to Col. Little, chief of cantonment construction in preparation for beginning work on the 16 soldier cities which are to be ready by September 1 to house 600,000 young men of the selective army. Award of contracts for buildings on the seven sites already selected probably will be announced tomorrow.

Chillicothe, O., and Petersburg, Va., were added today to the list of cantonment sites approved. Those previously announced are Ayer, Mass.; Wrightstown, N. J.; Atlanta, Ga.; American Lake, Wash., and Columbus, S. C. Apparently there has been some hitch in regard to Columbia, as its name does not appear on today's list although there has been no revocation of the earlier announcement.

Army orders today also called out a score of captains in the quartermaster reserve corps to be commanders of reserve wagon, motor truck and bakery companies for the cantonments. A board of officers aided by two civilian members of the board of millions, Council of National Defense was directed to study plans for storehouses for sub-depots of the war department and to recommend rules and regulations for the conduct of the vast distribution system that must be created before the camps are populated.

A statement by the committee on public information indicates that the war department anticipates criticism of the methods to be employed in constructing for the cantonment sites. It lays great stress on the enormous amount of work to be done in 12 weeks and asserts that this could be accomplished only by complete abandonment of all methods of handling army work heretofore known.

That the construction of these great camps can be carried on by methods new in government contracting without arousing criticism, the statement says, "is not expected by those in charge of the work. All they ask is that all the facts be ascertained by critics before any attempt is made to delay or stop the building. The war army is convinced that the men of the new army must begin training in September in order to be ready to go to France on time. The training cannot begin until the cantonments are ready, and these cannot be ready unless the government and its helpers break all previous construction records. They cannot do this if the enemy is aided by interference at home with the work upon which the very birth of the new army depends."

COLONIAL THEATRE.

Ben Loring will open his engagement at the Colonial Theatre on Monday with "Bringing Home Father," a laugh song show in two scenes presented with an unusual elaborate staging and a strong cast of principals to say nothing of the big beauty chorus that has been proven a sensation throughout New York state this spring. Ben Loring, the star, is without doubt one of the most popular comedians that New England has yet produced and his methods are always clean and acceptable to audiences wherever he plays. As a funmaker and songster he is without an equal for from the rise of the curtain till its final drop he is always ready with some witty saying, funny pieces of netting or oddity that starts the laughs immediately. His company is easily the strongest in singing and dancing that he has ever had, and his plays are now, novel and full to the brim of entertainment.

TO RECRUIT MARINES TO FULL STRENGTH

The following telegram received by the editor of The Herald from Major George Barnett, commandant of the U. S. Marine Corps, speaks for itself:

Washington, June 9.

Copy of statement by the secretary of the navy:

There are no better soldiers in the world than those in the United States Marine Corps, familiarly known as "Soldiers of the Sea." They have won their place by their splendid bearing, courage and bravery. Always among the first and often the first to land whenever the country needs trained armed men they have borne themselves in such a manner as to win complete admiration and fullest confidence of the American people. Service in the marine corps is a badge of honor and promotion in the corps can be obtained only by merit. In no other military service is promotion more certain to a man who demonstrates his capacity. June 10-16 has been designated by the marine corps recruiting service as "Marine Corps Week," and a special effort will be made during those days to add four thousand recruits to the marine corps, the number desired to bring the corps up to the strength lately authorized by congress. Young men with real American stuff ready to serve in all parts of the world on land and sea will find in it a place where they can serve their country in a way to win its gratitude with the opportunity of winning distinction for themselves. I bespeak your generous co-operation and support by patriotic organizations, business houses and influential citizens in making successful this extraordinary recruiting effort. (Signed) Joseph Daniels.

DRY LAW WILL COVER THE NAVY

Attorney-General Rules Prohibition Feature of Selective Draft Applies to Entire Military.

Washington, June 9.—Attorney-General Gregory has ruled that the prohibition features of the selective draft act apply to the navy, marine corps and other branches of the military establishment of the United States, as well as to the army.

It was clear that the act applied to the army but considerable doubt existed whether it would reach the navy and marine corps. The attorney-general's decision means that the government will enforce the law as applicable to every branch of the federal military and naval service, and to national guardsmen and others in the federal service. Secretary Daniels has so notified all members of the navy and marine forces.

The decision was in reply to a request for ruling preferred by Secretary Daniels. The attorney-general said:

"This department has administratively construed the provision in question as covering the entire military establishment of the United States, including the navy and marine corps."

Section 12 of the selective draft act, which is thus declared to be applicable to the sea forces of the United States as well as those who fight on land, follows:

"That the President of the United States is commander-in-chief of the army is authorized to make such regulations governing the prohibition of alcoholic liquors in or near military camps and to the officers and enlisted men of the army as he may from time to time deem necessary or advisable. Provided that no person, corporation, partnership or association shall sell, supply, or have in his or its possession any intoxicating or spirituous liquors at any military station, cantonment, camp, fort, postoffice or enlisted men's club which is being at the time for military purposes under this act, but the secretary of war may make regulations permitting the sale and use of intoxicating liquors for medicinal purposes."

"It shall be unlawful to sell any intoxicating liquor, including beer, ale or wine to any officer or any member of a military force while in uniform, except as herein provided. Any person, corporation, partnership or association violating the provisions of this section or the regulations made thereunder, shall, unless otherwise punished under the Articles of the War, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and be punished by a fine of not more than $1000 or imprisonment for not more than 12 months, or both."

OLYMPIA THEATRE NOTES.

We have often wondered just what it is that makes Triangle plays so popular with our patrons. Perhaps the whole can be summed up in these statements. Action, strong, vigorous, rattle with impulse and dramatic fire—that's what carries one to the very height of exciting pleasure in Triangle plays. And such human action it is, and so full of gripping interest, that one rises in his seat in anticipation of what is coming next. Characters in Triangle plays live. They breathe. They have real personality. They make you forget that they are but vehicles for the finished expression of genius. Players who are usual individuals lose themselves in their work in the silent drama, the picture romance of Triangle plays.

Triangle pictures are a household expression with the "movie" loving public. When they hear the name Triangle, it means something to them—an evening's entertainment and pleasure.

For the last time we must remind our patrons of the great week of motion pictures that is coming. On Monday and Tuesday we have Marguerite Clark in the Paramount special production, "Snow White," an adaptation of the play in which she starred for three years at Winthrop Ames' Little Theatre in New York city. Also the final episode of "The Great Secret," with Francis Bushman and Beverly Bayne.

It is doubtful if there was ever a larger crowd at this theatre than there was last evening. Thirty minutes after the performance began, practically every seat was taken.

Our best show of the week seems to fall on Friday and Saturday and it seems that the public realize this and take advantage of it.

The Triangle play of course is the big feature. It is a wonderful Thomas Ince production, and his plays are always excellent, with its locale in England and France during the present war. The play, "The Dark Road," gives Dorothy Dalton an opportunity to do the best work of her career. Her role of Cleo, the vampire and unfaithful wife, establishes her for all time in the front rank of motion picture actresses. Next to an excellent and original story, the success of the picture is credited to Miss Dalton.

Violet Mercereau, the dainty Bluebird star, appears in "Susan's Gentleman," an excellent comedy drama that went over big last evening.

Molly King continues to win fame and friends in the "Mystery of the Double Cross." The fifth chapter is now being shown and should not be missed.

No one will have any cause for regretting seeing this program tonight. Remember—two performances, 8.30 and 10.30.

FRUIT JUICES FOR JELLY MAKING KEPT WITHOUT SUGAR.

Washington, D. C., June 8.—Fruit juices for use later in jelly making can be sterilized and bottled without sugar and made into jellies at the housewife's convenience. This enables her to do with fewer jelly glasses and to distribute her purchases of sugar for jelly making through the year. Moreover, with the bottled juices she can make a greater variety of jellies, as juices which will not sell can be put up when the fruit is ripe and combined later with fruits that will sell, or fruits ripening at different seasons can be combined. For example, the juice of strawberries, cherries, or pineapple can be kept without sugar and later when apples are plentiful can be made into combination jelly.

From the unsugared sterilized juices of currants, apples, crabapples, and grapes, kept from 9 to 18 months, the Bureau of Chemistry, United States Department of Agriculture, recently made jellies of excellent texture, flavor, and color.

To put up unsugared fruit juices for jelly making, proceed exactly as if jelly were to be made at the time. Cook the fruits until they are soft and strain out the juice through a flannel bag. Heat and pour while hot into bottles previously scalded. Fill the bottles full, leaving no air space between juice and cork or seal. Place the filled sealed bottles on their sides in water near the boiling point, and keep them in the bath for about 30 minutes.

Make sure that the corked or sealed end is under the hot water. As soon as the bottles are cool, cover the work with a paraffin seal. Thorough sterilization and sealing are absolutely essential to success.

To make jelly from the sterilized juice, test its jelling quality, add the proper amount of sugar, and proceed as in making jelly from freshly expressed juice.

THE KAISER.

(By Florence Earle Coates of the Vaudeville)

He stood alone, in sovereignty sublime, Uniquely great,—the Kaiser! They that feared, Yet honored him, who to the world appeared Lolly in courage, wise above his time, The Monarch of the hour!— Using his strength destructive things to bind, Serving the Fatherland—and, so, mankind, Safeguarding Peace with Power.

He stood alone? How lone today he stands, The eyes of all fixed wondering on him!

His throne ensanguined, his bright regis dlin, The murderous sword clutched in his lawless hand!

What spectacle more sad Than might by its own folly wounded so?

Are the gods jealous now, as long ago, That thus they make ambitious mortals mad?

Itching, bleeding, protruding or blind, plies have yielded to Dean's Ointment, 50c at all stores.

ENTERTAINED IN CELEBRATION OF REENLISTMENT

Chief Machinist's Mate James McKenna, of the U. S. S. Baltimore, tendered a banquet to a dozen or more of his shipmates and friends at the Kearsarge Hotel on Friday evening. The guests included eleven members of a social organization on board the mine planter which has been in existence for several years. It has been the custom for the members of the club at the expiration of their enlistment to give a dinner to the other members and share its organization several of these banquets have been held. One of the remarkable features in connection with this is the fact that the club has not changed its membership, inasmuch as each member has reenlisted immediately after receiving his discharge. Mr. McKenna's service expires today and he has signified his intention of "shipping over" just as soon as his papers can be filled out.

Mr. McKenna presided as toastmaster and the several speakers included Jack Alexander, Chief Heavy Machinist and Landlord Sherman Newton, who was one of the guests, and each testified to the esteem in which Mr. McKenna was held.

An elaborate menu was served including roast chicken and vegetables, live broiled lobster, lobster salad, poultry ice cream and cake, and coffee and cigars.

Among the guests were Paymaster E. B. Kennedy, U. S. N., Ernest P. C. Houghton, U. S. N., Sherman Newton, H. T. Smith, Henry Kosmicki, M. Thelwell, H. Norman, E. Coffey, C. Mollington, J. B. Kettily, J. Perdomo, Jr., J. Nahrwald, J. H. Veenema, and James O'Donnell.

HUDSON Rules-- With 33,000 Users

In any crowd of fine cars, note how the Hudson Super-Six dominates. Never before was first place held by a car at the Hudson price.

But Hudson engineers gave to the world the marvelous Super-Six motor. By minimizing friction, 80 per cent was added to motor efficiency, and increased endurance to a limit not yet discovered.

This was demonstrated by winning so many worth-while records. No other car in the world—though many trials have been made—has equaled what it has done. So naturally it outsells any car with a price above $1100.

Today, there are 33,000 owners who have proved it the greatest car that's built.

In the latest models, its lines and details completely round out its title to the ruling car. In beauty, finish, style, in luxury and distinction, no one can mistake its place.

The Hudson Super-Six has also many other unique and exclusive features. One is the shutter arrangement on the radiator by which many of the disadvantages of the present poor quality of gasoline are minimized.

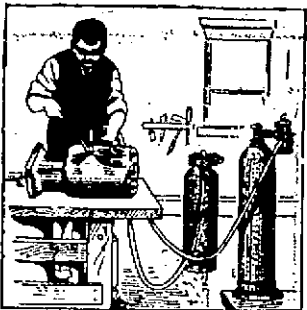

Many men will this spring buy a fine car, to serve for years to come. More such men will choose Hudson Super-Six than any other car. What will you do? Come and see.

OFFICERS PROMOTED BY WILSON

PRESIDENT SENDS LIST OF ARMY AND NAVY MEN TO THE SENATE—COLONELS ARE MADE BRIGADIER-GENERALS.

Washington, June 8.—The long expected army and navy promotions to supply officers for America's increasing fighting forces in the war on Germany were recommended by President Wilson to the Senate today.

The President recommended Brig. Gen. Morrison, William L. Silbert and Charles G. Morton to be major-generals. He nominated the following colonels to be brigadier-generals: Edwin F. Glynn, John Hiddle, Henry C. Hodges, Jr., Adelbert Cronkhite, William H. Sage, Omar Hardy, Richard M. Blatchford, David C. Shanks, Robert L. Hulbert, Augustus P. Blockson, George T. Barthett, Joseph T. Dickman, Henry T. Allen, Chase W. Kennedy, Harry C. Hale, Samuel D. Sturges, William M. Wright and Peyton C. March.

Age is largely recognized in the army appointments. Most of the men are past 50 or 55, while the younger officers have not been promoted.

Capt. Hugh Godman was nominated to be rear admiral.

Three majors were recommended for promotion to the rank of lieutenant-colonels.

Other recommended promotions in the navy were six commanders to be captains; 15 lieutenant-commanders to be commanders; 25 lieutenants to be lieutenant-commanders; 97 junior grade lieutenants to be lieutenants and 97 en signes to be junior grade lieutenants.

In the marine corps Eliza Theall, retired first lieutenant, was recommended as a colonel on the active list.

Forty-five warrant officers and clerks for assistant paymasters were recommended as second lieutenants for temporary service.

Getting dinner ready in July is just as comfortable as in November—if you use a FLORENCE OIL COOK STOVE.

The heat goes into the cooking, not into the kitchen. It does your work well and reliably, and keeps you comfortable. It requires less watching and regulating than a coal stove.

You can keep one or more burners at an intensely hot or merely simmering flame.

Come in and let us show you how these Florence Automatic Stoves work, how simple and reliable. No Wicks to burn out. No Valves to leak. Once started, each burner will keep going at the same power until you turn it out.

POLICE COURT

Two continued cases were heard in the municipal court today, that of Ameli, Pede and Alois Stumpf. The first named was held in the sum of $200 for the October term of the superior court on a charge of larceny. She is alleged to have obtained the bankbook of Mike Yonich and taken $200 of his account and spent it. Ameli says the money was owed her and Yonich says it was not. Ameli has been out on bail of $500 since her arrest.

The second case was that of Alois Stumpf charged with reckless driving of a car on Bow street last Saturday night when Cecil Foster, one of the naval reserves was injured by the auto. Mr. and Mrs. Stumpf and John Hangan testified as to the speed of the car as 6 miles per hour. According to Stumpf, a crowd of the sailor reservists were standing talking in the highway when the machine came along. Stumpf claims he blew his horn and applied the brakes. The sailors scattered, some going to one side and some on the other. He said Foster went toward the sidewalk and was clear of all danger but he attempted cross in front of the machine and was struck. The comrades of the sailor said the machine was making better than six miles and was not under control. The court decided that if Foster had used due care the accident would have been avoided and discharged the respondent.

William Sylvester, a navy man, avoided a fine but he paid as much to the proprietor of the National hotel for the broken glass he smashed in a front window.

Marcellus Donald and John Sharp, both charged with drunkenness, caught six months with the bow and make squad and will be busy with garden plots and other seasonal duties at the farming colony until the holidays of 1917 are a matter of history.

The City of Dover has appropriated $300 for municipal band concerts during the summer months. It would be a good idea for the local city fathers to use the money they did not appropriate for the revision of the city ordinances, as decreed by the city solicitor, for a few band concerts.

MISSED A TRAIN CONNECTION BUT SAVED THE DOG

Canine Holds Up Electric Car on Bridge Near Kittery Junction.

The kindly act of a motorman on the Atlantic Shore railway this morning was noted by several passengers of a car from Dover due at Kittery Junction at 8. While this car was passing over the bridge at Walker's Creek, a dog appeared on the structure on his way across. The conductor had a passenger who wished to catch the 8.01 train at Kittery Junction for Boston. The slow movement of the dog hopping along the ties was holding back the car and the passenger was growing anxious. The motorman had the choice of killing the dog or missing the connection for the steam cars. He took the former. Getting out on the bridge he picked up the animal in his arms, carried it to the car and brought it across the water to land. The Boston passenger missed the train by a few seconds, but he expressed himself in much praise for the motorman, and hurrying across the Portsmouth bridge on foot he caught the southern division Concord train and made a connection for Boston at Rockingham.
